

US Surgeons refused to operate Largest Implants on Sheyla Hershey

Breast Implants USA releases :

Plastic surgeons in the United States, citing health and safety regulations, refused to perform additional surgery on on Sheyla Hershey attempting to set a record for breast implant size. The U.S. surgeons' decision not to perform the surgery affirms that the United States health and safety standards are above and beyond the standards elsewhere in the world. Plastic surgeons certified by the American Board of Plastic Surgery receive additional training and are featured at Breast Implants USA. These highly-qualified and experienced surgeons can be contacted through tools on the Breast Implants USA web.
